Forget about all the hype you've heard about day trading. Seriously. Get that stuff out of your mind. Most of the authors trying to pump you up about day trading have a vested interest in steering you in the wrong direction and getting your hopes up. They get to sell a book or a series of books. You, on the other hand, may be at risk of losing thousands, if not tens of thousands, of dollars! If you are a complete newbie to day trading and want the inside dope or straight talk about this form of securities trading, you are looking at the right book. Instead of spending an inordinate amount of time and book space on how much you can earn from day trading as well as the financial freedom you can enjoy, this book focuses most of its firepower on what you need to know so you can succeed with day trading. Completely free of hype and focused solely on complete day trading newbies, this book peels back the hype and gives you the kind of basic step by step information you've been looking for to make an informed decision about day trading. Make no mistake about it, this type of speculative stock trading is NOT for everyone. By laying out the process you need to go through in a practical and no nonsense way, you get a clear idea of just exactly what you'll be getting into moment as long as your head is in the game the right way. Beginner Trading Psychology 101 affords readers who are brand new to trading and investing the opportunity to really learn and expand their knowledge base as new traders from someone who came up on his own and trades and invests and trades with real money on a daily basis. The market is not a big secret and all of the information you need to make a trading decision is right out in the open on your trading chart. Much of what the current trading education industry is putting out is not only giving you information that is all backwards, is very unrealistic to do in the live markets, and can get you into a lot of trouble. There are very few books that deal with just how important the psychology of trading really is and brand new self-directed investors and traders have no idea what they up against and real money traders know what psychological mistakes you are going to make before you make them, beginner traders are who professionals get paid from in the live market. Beginner Trading Psychology 101 should be a must read for beginner and inexperienced traders looking to build their foundations and strategies. It is my hope that one day it could be taught as a course at all of the top business schools and should be required reading for anyone who has zero knowledge of trading and investing who wants to get into it and do it as a business. If you are a brand new self-directed investor and trader with zero knowledge of the business you should not skip one word of Beginner Trading Psychology 101.

mental toughness if you wish to compete in the live markets against the best traders in the world. The good news is you can do it; the even better news is that you can do it fairly quickly if you follow the suggestions in this book. There is really no easy way to do it honestly, there is a certain progression of steps all new traders must go through to be able to drive their own money train. Some of the first steps are to study and learn money management, gain a hold on your own trading psychology, and compose a rules based trading amongst others. There are no short cuts and what I just said to study and learn can take quite a while. It all depends on you and how much time and effort you are willing to put in to learn what needs to be known to be a successful market participant. You are in control of your investing and trading business and once you have your psychology and emotions under control you will achieve consistency and be able to make as much money in the live markets as you desire. There is also a lot of fear involved in trading and as a professional investor and trader you must be able to pull the trigger on a position and do it without hesitation or fear. When traders make a mistake in their analysis, which causes them to take a loss, they can develop a fear of being wrong all the time. This can psychologically prevent them from “ pulling the trigger ” when they need to. There are some suggestions in this book to help you overcome the fear of pulling the trigger in the live market.
